

RABBIT VACCINES

Rabbits are vaccinated against Myxomatosis and two strains of Rabbit Viral Haemorrhagic Disease (RVHD).

The initial vaccine is for RVHD 1 and Myxomatosis, and from 2 weeks later, they ideally have the RVHD 2 vaccine.

They need their vaccines from 5 weeks old, then yearly after this. This is the best chance bunnies have at being protected from these diseases, as unvaccinated rabbits don't usually don't survive!
